Basic Agreement for Electronic Financial Transactions + Details

Article 1 (Purpose)

The purpose of this Agreement is to set out basic matters pertaining to electronic financial transactions carried out between KSNET INC. (hereafter "the Company") and users of the Company's electronic payment agency service and payment amount deposit service.

Article 2 (Definitions)

1. "Electronic financial transactions" refers to transactions in which the Company provides electronic payment agency service and the escrow service ("electronic financial transactions service"), using an electronic means, while users use automated devices without a face-to-face encounter with its personnel.

2. "Electronic payment agency service" refers to a service in which payment information is communicated electronically in purchasing goods or using a service, or when the price payment is made on behalf of another person or by an intermediary.

3. The "Escrow service" refers to a service in which users purchasing goods or using services pay the price (hereafter "the payment") in part or in full in advance to a third party before the final receiving of goods or services, and the price is paid to the Company upon their confirmation of the Company's provision of goods or services (goods, etc.).

4. "Users" refers to the people using the Company's electronic financial transactions service after consenting to this Agreement.

5. "Access media" refers to means or information used to give a transaction-related instruction on transaction or identify users and secure the veracity and accuracy of the content of the transaction in an electronic financial transaction. Access media refers to what is stipulated in the
